

Taxed on money you never made?

Your tax return is prepared from the reports your books produce. If the books are off, so is the return. Reality Review checks that your numbers make sense before we file.

A REAL CASE

A business owner's revenue feed was posting sales into the books twice. The tax return was built from those books, so it reported income that never existed.

$80,000 OVER Reported income that never existed

$24,000 SAVED
in federal and state income tax on it

What we check

✓ Revenue vs. your 1099-Ks

Sales match what your processors reported.

✓ Revenue vs. your bank deposits

Income matches what actually hit the bank.

✓ Expenses vs. industry norms

Anything way out of range gets flagged.

WHAT YOU GET

A short findings summary: what ties, what's flagged, and what to fix before we file.

WHAT IT ISN'T

An audit or a reconciliation. We don't change your books. We check that they make sense.
